NATIONAL CAR WASH CHAIN PROMOTES FUNDRAISING TO HELP GET COMMUNITY INVOLVED

Boca Raton, FL (Sept. 11th 2009) – National car wash chain Express Car Wash has taken the initiative to present a new, safer, eco-friendly method of community fundraising, which is designed to help raise money for schools, community projects, athletic teams, or any non-profit organization. Fifty percent of all proceeds are kept by the community fundraiser.

Rather than renting a parking lot, wasting an excess of water, and compromising the safety of participants promoting the fundraiser, the fundraiser simply sells Express Car Wash certificates, which can be redeemed for a professional, fast car wash at Express Car Wash.

Certificates are “custom printed” with the name of the organization and serially numbered for easy control. Pricing and production are at a discounted rate for participants. At the conclusion of the one-month sale period, the group returns any unsold certificates and keeps 50% of all proceeds.

With 18 locations throughout the nation, Express Car Wash prides itself on speed, quality and friendly associates. The family-operated business was started in 1963 and is now operated by brothers and co-owners, John and Michael Shullman.

Once the Boca Raton Express Car Wash fundraising program is underway, the store’s other two locations in Florida: Rub-A-Dub Car Spa in Delray Beach and Big City Car Wash in Jacksonville will follow suit.

The chain offers a wide selection of high-quality, fast service, guaranteeing an exterior wash in less than five minutes, full service wash in less than 15 minutes, and a hand-waxed vehicle in less than 20 minutes.

Express Car Wash is no stranger to supporting the community. The car wash also sponsors local charities, including the Boys and Girls Club of Fort Lauderdale, the Dori Slosberg Foundation, a highway safety organization, and The Haven in Boca Raton, a home for boys in the foster care system. The company donated $5,000 to Florida charities in 2008 and is increasing its philanthropy this year.

Reputable for its outstanding customer service, quality and speed, Express Car Wash proudly received the honor of “Business of the Year 2008,” awarded by The South Florida Business
